

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

1c PER COPY (The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper) 1c PER COPY

Vol. 12. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1939

Oddity Collector Here

W. E. LeHuquet, former printer and publisher on the Pacific Coast, is in Tryon with his large display of oddities and trinkets collected from all over the United States and many others given him from all over the world. Mr. LeHuquet travels in a remodeled hearse, and calls it the "smallest deluxe apartment in the world," for he not only travels in it, but sleeps and cooks in it. That is really astonishing when it is considered that he has what looks to be millions of trinkets and souvenirs displayed in and outside the car. He has been written up by Ripley and many newspapers. He believes that he is the only man who has visited the birthplaces and burial places of all the United States Presidents except one. One of his hobbies is seeking interesting places, people and oddities. He came to Tryon primarily to see the office of the world's smallest daily newspaper. His next stop will be at the 150 year old fire near Saluda. On Monday he visited the Bottomless Pools at Lake Lure. His slogan is: "Live square and you will have no trouble getting 'round.'"

Last Call for Taxes

Tax Collector W. C. Hague is publishing a courtesy notice in today's issue of the Bulletin urging all delinquent taxpayers to pay their taxes this week or before August 1st. After that date the list of delinquent tax payers will be published in The Polk County News and the cost of advertising added to the taxes on each property listed.

Ball-the-Jacks, Win From Ballew Devils

Continuing their undefeated and untied record the Ball-the-Jacks softball team won over the much stronger Ballew Devils on Monday afternoon at Harmon Field by a score of 16 to 11. The Ball-the-Jacks have won six consecutive games in the softball league and have no losses. They also have won two outside league games against the Landrum Terrors.

Quart Jars 79c At Ballenger's

An error in capacity was made in the Ballenger advertisement on Monday. "No need to recall the error," says the printer; "just tell them the truth: that the Ballenger Company is selling a dozen quart jars at 79c per dozen."

Dennis Henderson

Dennis Henderson, 49, of Landrum Route 3, died suddenly on Monday night about 12:30. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Burial probably at Marshall, N. C. Services in charge of McFarland Funeral Home.

Baseball Wednesday

Adams-Millis vs. Inman baseball game is advertised for Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 at Harmon Field.

British give in on rights of Japanese in China war. Tokyo claims "sweeping diplomatic victory."