Money Allotted to Fight Venereal Disease

Washington, Aug. 1.—The United States Public Health service allotted $158,690 to North Carolina and $97,285 to South Carolina to inaugurate the joint Federal-State program of venereal disease control approved at the last session of Congress.

The allotments were made under the bill sponsored in the House by Representative A. L. Bulwinkle of the 10th North Carolina district, and in the Senate by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. A total of $5,000,000 was appropriated for use this year, of which $620,750 was retained by the Federal government for research work, laboratory and field demonstrations and administration.

Of the $158,690 allotted to North Carolina, $70,590 was an outright grant, while the remaining $88,100 is to be matched on a dollar-for-dollar basis. In South Carolina, the grant totaled $44,198, and $52,087 must be matched.—Charlotte Observer.
