Tryon Girl Appears In Singing Class

The Singing Class of the Masonic Orphanage at Oxford gave a wonderful concert in Winston-Salem this year which was written up in the Wiston-Salem Journal as being greatly enjoyed by the large number of interested friends present, and goes on to congratulate the Class upon this year's program. The Singing Classes of the Orphanage for more than fifty years have made annual tours of the State, each year bringing a new class with a new and up to date program, this year we will be pleased to welcome a Tryon girl who is with the class and the hit of the show, and in order to properly welcome this star performer in her own home town, children under twelve years of age accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free.
