"PRATTLINGS"

By Glenn Pratt, Tryon Hi

The Literary society elected Francis Chapman, president, Fred Hutchison, vice-president and Dick Taylor, secretary. This year the society plans to have declamation and recitation contests We have something that is a little unusual for this column. George Dewey Cooksey, Jr. is offering driving lessons. Apply at his home This year's freshman class seems to have gotten off to a fine start. Keep up the good work and some day you will be a wise senior. (Maybe) The fourth year English class has been studying Canterbury Tales and is making a frieze illustrating the story. . . . The Beta club will meet Tuesday evening at eight o'clock with Miss Sevier. By the way, the list of officers given last week was not quite complete as Buddy Moore, the treasurer, was omitted. We hope Buddy will not mind this oversight. At the meeting of the club, plans will be discussed for taking in Ninth grade members. . . . The Senior chapel program of Friday the fifteenth was quite successful. This Friday the Juniors are in charge of the program Friday evening a dance was held in the gym. The attendance was rather small. Plans are being made for the formation of a dance club Mary Palmer and Peggy Lincoln left for college Monday. Remember, you two, we all want to hear from you, and don't let us down Is it true what they say about Richard? We mean does he really take his car to bed with him? There is one person whom we all miss this year—Jane Brand. She is attending school in Maryland There are some people who must actually like school. Despite a broken ankle Jean Derby hasn't missed any school so far. Congratulations, Jean! When Tryon meets Inman on Sept. 22, nothing could possibly please the team more than to have a large crowd turn out for the game. Let's all back up our team this year. We owe that much to them. A great game is anticipated, and much action is promised During the first two weeks of school the Ninth grade went without an absence or a tardy. They challenge any other grade in school to beat this record The Senior class elected officers on Monday. They are: Dutton Beatson, president; Theodore Burrell, vice-president; David Cromer, secretary-treasurer Our last year's Seniors are busy doing the following things: Attending college, 6; attending secretarial school, 4; post graduate course, 3; holding jobs, 9; married, 2. We hope that you Seniors have all the luck in the world. . . . Well, I guess I'll prattle along 'till next week. I'll be seeing you.
