Saluda Apples On Display In Tryon Windows

Saluda prize winning apples right from the Apple Show are now on display at the Mountain Industries and Blue Ridge Weavers. There are 22 varieties of these beautiful apples on display. They are from the orchards of K. J. Davis of Saluda. After the apples have been on display for a few days they will be presented to St. Luke's hospital. County Agent J. A. Wilson, who assisted in putting on the show in Saluda, brought the apples to Tryon.

Training School Opens Third Time Tonight

The Interdenominational Religious Training School will hold its third session tonight at 7:30 at the Tryon First Baptist church. The interesting lectures by Dr. Charles G. Sewall speaking on history, poetry and fiction and those by Dr. Hunter of Converse college on "How to Teach" are drawing large crowds of people from all over this section, and the church last week was full to the front seats. The entire course of twenty lectures in ten sessions costs only $1 or 5c per lecture. The public is invited.
