LANIER LIBRARY—1890 - 1940

Fifty years ago this January, when Tryon was still a tiny village, a small group of enterprising and far-seeing women organized our Lanier Library, one of the first libraries opened to the public in the State of North Carolina. Ever since that time it has been maintained and enlarged by the efforts of the women of Tryon without aid of State, County or Town taxes. Fifty years without break, without a halt in improvement, without a penny owed or an obligation to the community left unfulfilled; that is a record of which Tryon may well be proud. And now, on this anniversary, the Lanier Library as represented by its loyal group of women workers, is looking to the future with high hopes of continuing and bettering that record. The Tryon of today must not lag behind that of 1890. But in these days of high pressure and larger scope it takes greater efforts than ever to keep our Library alive, and to meet the vital needs of the community.

A bequest from a former member of the Lanier club has for the past twenty years made available $100 a year for non-fiction, but this fund will soon expire and must be replaced in some way. The members of the Executive Board of the Library feel that a fitting way to commemorate this 50th Anniversary would be to establish the beginning of a small endowment to be used as a permanent Book Fund, and they urge that you begin this next fifty years of the Library's life by adding some donation to your usual annual subscription.

Will you be one of ten to give $100?

Will you be one of ten to give $50?

Will you be one of ten to give $25?

Or one of one hundred to give $10?

Whatever sum you can give, be it large or small, you may feel happy to have a share in the welfare of this beloved and honorable institution.

Mrs. Frank Crandall,
Treasurer.

Mrs. Carroll Rogers,
Chairman Ways and Means.
