

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POST OFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

SETH M. VINING, Editor

$1.50 Year In the Carolinas

1c PER COPY (The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper) 1c PER COPY

Vol. 12. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, JAN. 26, 1940

CURB REPORTER

Secretary G. Isham Henderson of the Civil Service commission has several openings for government jobs including telephone operator at $1,200 per year, stenographers, typists, aeronautical inspector, electrical mechanic and others. If interested in getting these jobs make application at Tryon post office . . . . The Southern Literary Messenger, founded in 1834, and famous for its literary articles has been revived and is again devoted to every department of literature and the fine arts. The current issue is dedicated to our beloved poet, Sidney Lanier, and has more than a dozen articles about Lanier. They include Unpublished Letters of Sidney Lanier by J. DeWitt Hankins; Our Poet Dawns, a poem, by M. Clifford Harrison; A dedication editorial by Editor F. Meredith Dietz; An artistic sketch of the last Lanier home at Lynn, drawn by Mrs. Harkness Smith; On Wings of Song by Beatrice Mary Billing; The South's Religious Thinkers by John J. Lanier; The Laniers by Mary Lanier Magruder; Sidney Lanier's Fame and Memorials by Oliver Orr; Ballard of the Silver Flute, a tribute to Sidney Lanier by Visian Yeiser Laramore, poet Laureate of Florida; and other interesting articles. Tryon and its visitors appreciate Sidney Lanier. We have honored his memory by
.....Continued on Back Page.....

Mill Spring School To Re-Open Soon

Classes are expected to be resumed at the Mill Spring school within the next week or ten days, according to a statement made today by W. E. Sawyer, county superintendent of education.

Although the part of the building destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon is not expected to be rebuilt in time for use during this term, Superintendent Sawyer said that the auditorium and the manual training shop located in the unburned section of the building will be partitioned and used as emergency class rooms until rebuilding of the north wing is completed.

The school's heating equipment was located in the burned section and was lost. The time classes will be suspended depends on the time it will take for plumbers to install emergency heating units.

Green Creek school in the lower part of the county remains closed as a result of the boiler used to heat this building, exploding immediately after the Christmas holidays. According to information reaching Tryon, a new boiler has been purchased and is now being installed. This will enable classes to be resumed in this unit of the Polk county schools within the next few days.

Due to the condition of the county roads traversed by school busses, none of the consolidated schools will re-open until Monday, according to Mr. Sawyer.

Nazis to intensify U-boat warfare. Germany builds sub daily.