Kiwanians Celebrate Washington's Birthday

Kiwanis Ladies' Night celebrating Washington's birthday held at Oak Hall hotel on Tuesday evening with a dinner, including music, speeches and folk dances, was a most successful and delightful affair from every angle.

Dr. C. Arthur Lincoln had charge of the program and was master of ceremonies. He introduced the speaker, Dr. Sevier, of Fassifern school, who gave an interesting talk on some of the worthwhile things being done in Kiwanis. Charlie Nessmith directed the music with Miss Elizabeth Gray at the piano. The souvenirs of bon bon baskets with hatchets were distributed by George Cathey. In the center of the dining table were cherry trees and individual colorful salads, carrying out the Washington celebration. The dinner was excellent.

Following the after dinner speeches W. P. Jackson entertained the Kiwanians and their guests with games and folk dances.

The out-of-town guests besides Dr. Joseph R. Sevier, the speaker were Mrs. Sevier, and Editor and Mrs. J. T. Fain of Hendersonville.

Basketball Tonight

Tryon high will seek its 12th win of the season tonight when the Spartan "B's" invade the local court. The locals handed the visitors a defeat last Friday night but only after a tough fight and are expecting stiff competition. Everyone is urged to come out and support the team. The game starts at 7:30.

CURB REPORTER

Arrived in Miami across Tamiami trail at noon Saturday. Mayor E. G. Sewell welcomed us at the court house. He had heard of Tryon. We were guests of the City of Hialeah Park and at the dog races Saturday. Guest of Chamber of Commerce on a boat trip on Biscayne Bay and Indian Creek. Saw so many beautiful homes. Be sure to made this trip. A million dollars will become so common you won't think anything of it . . . Reception and buffet supper for us Sunday at Columbus Hotel. Received by Mayors Sewell of Miami, Levi of Miami Beach and McGarry of Coral Gable. McGarry had visited Tryon, stopped at Mimosa Inn and knew Bill Stearns. Fred Weede is here, and I met Carl Bamford. Said he wanted to see the new Tryon Theatre. Major (not mayor) James P. Dodge of Marion gave a good talk on the great parkway, inviting Floridians to use it, and Robert Phillips invited them to the Rhododendron Festival, Norman Craig spoke for Chimney Rock. Senator Bacon presented the home-spun suit to the Miami Mayor from the tour group, and he is giving a tie to match the suit given by Seely . . . J. Y. Gooch welcomed us for the Chamber of Commerce. He is a native of Virginia. Knows the Langhornes. He
