Landrum Residents Figure In Wrecks

Slippery highways, poor visibility was blamed for two accidents Tuesday night on Highway 176 below Campobello. In the first accident, Hugh Brady and Billy Ladschaw of Landrum escaped serious injuries when their auto skidded on the wet pavement and overturned into a ditch below Gramling. Within a few minutes and only a half-mile above the scene of this wreck, the J. F. Cantrell truck operated by Russell Cantrell, was sideswiped and wrecked by a Ford occupied by several negroes. After colliding with the truck, the Ford swerved directly into the path of a light coupe occupied by Broadus Whitlock and Wesley Mosely of Campobello. All three of the vehicles were demolished, and both Mosely and Whitlock received severe injuries. The negroes disappeared immediately after the accident, and had not been located by investigating officers several hours after the collisions.
