COURTESY?

When you ask a friend for something to help somebody else who needs it badly and he does not answer yes or no, how do you feel? Well, if you haven't answered the letter from the hospital friends please do it now as a courtesy to them. These friends are not asking for themselves. They get no salary or commission, and they are not telling you what to do. That's for your own conscience to decide. But as a courtesy to them answer the letter. If you can't give anything write them that you can't and it will save a solicitor from having to call. Remember the "Widow's Mite" is appreciated because it shows your interest and it inspires the person who can give more.
