Flower Show At Rutherfordton

Mrs. Stover Dunnagan and Mrs. Wilson of Rutherfordton were in Tryon Wednesday arousing interest in the Rutherfordton Flower Show which will be held there on Friday, May 17th. They would like for Polk County friends to participate. Flowers may be brought to the show before 11 a. m., on show day. Visitors to the show will be received until 8 p. m., or later if requested.

Register Saturday

The last day for Democrats and Republicans to register in order to vote, is Saturday, May 11th. This is important if voters wish to participate in the primary of May 25th.

POLK MAN GETS PERMIT FOR FREIGHT LINE

Washington, May 8.—The interstate commerce commission has granted a certificate to Walter D. Westbrook of Campobello to operate a motor freight line between the following points over irregular routes: Between points in Polk and Rutherfordton Counties, N. C., and points in Spartanburg County, S. C.; from points in Spartanburg County to Charlotte, N. C.; from Charleston, S. C., to points in Rutherford and Polk Counties, N. C.; from Spartanburg, S. C. to points in Rutherfordton and Polk Counties, N. C., and from Henderson, N. C., to points in Spartanburg County.

Electrifying Polk

One of the most interesting changes taking place in Polk County is the progress of rural electric lines now being built by the Duke Power Co., in areas from Columbus to Mill Spring and to Green Creek. A new line now underway includes the Fox Mountain section via of John L. Brown's farm and on to old No. 19, also other areas in the County. These new lines will make a big change in the life and work of the people in those sections where electricity can relieve the family of much drudgery and inconvenience.

Cowan's Celebrates Seventh Anniversary

John Cowan, owner of the Cowan's Grocery & Market and Cowan's Dry Goods and Clothing Department and Tryon Cafe is celebrating the Seventh Anniversary of his business in Tryon today with a special advertisement in today's Bulletin in which are offered bargains in every line of his business. The story of Mr. Cowan's rise from a beginning with a few shelves of groceries to the ownership of several stores has often been told. It is no longer news, but Mr. Cowan says he wants all his friends and customers to come in and help him celebrate.

New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFarland are building a house in Columbus near the Newman home. Mr. McFarland is the Polk County Clerk of Court.
