CURB REPORTER

Miss Eloise LeBeau renewing her subscription from Lansing, Mich., writes: "Two weeks ago I had the pleasure of seeing Mr. Jenks who had come here for his class reunion at Michigan State College. It is most remarkable the way Tryon connections seem to reach out in an ever widening circle."

. . . Mrs. Grace Clemons writes from Los Angeles, Calif.: "Ted Malone whose daily broadcast 'Between the Bookends' over the Blue Network from Radio City, has acknowledged receiving a book of poem entitled 'A Star Shines' written by Elizabeth Thomas of Saluda, sent him by a friend of Miss Thomas, and says 'I like the poems, and one of these days I'll reading them over the Blue network'" at 1:15 p. m. EDST . . . The Fred J. McDonalds of Tryon have gone to their summer home at St. Clair, Mich., where they have spent the past 43 summers. Mrs. McDonald says: "We have had much rain but St. Clair river is as swift and blue and beautiful as ever." . . . If you have any suggestions for entertaining the big crowd at Harmon Field on July Fourth notify C. J. Lynch or the Bulletin. Mr. Lynch has already made arrangements for a fresh green pole for the boys to climb.

Today's Headlines

President Roosevelt created a sensation on Thursday when he appointed Republican Henry Stimson to be his secretary of war to succeed Harry Woodring who resigned; and when he appointed Republican Frank Knox of Chicago to succeed secretary of the navy, Edison, who resigned to run for governor of New Jersey. Col. Knox was Republican vice-presidential candidate in 1936, and Stimson was secretary of state under Hoover and secretary of war under Taft. Both are able men and the appointment meets the approval of those desiring a non-partisan front for national defense. The Republican convention now meeting in Philadelphia doesn't like it and have ruled Knox and Stimson out of party leadership. Appeasement and isolationist Democrats don't like it either, for Knox and Stimson favor giving the Allies more support.

France will know today what terms Germany will give her for peace. Representatives are meeting at the same place where Germany had to surrender to France in 1918.

Joe Louis, world champion boxer defended his title Thursday night by technically knocking out a Chilean, Arturo Godoy in the 8th round. About 28,000 fans saw the fight and several million heard it over the radio.

50,000 French soldiers flee into Switzerland rather than give up to Germany.

The Germans are continuing their drive all over France.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Windsor are reported in Portugal.
