The Tryon Daily Bulletin

1c PER COPY (The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper) 1c PER COPY SETH M. VINING, Editor $1.50 Year In the Carolinas

Vol. 13. Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1

Waitsal Garrett

J. Waitsal Garrett, 56, road forean, and member of prominent olk County family, died suddenly at his home on Warrior Mountain last night. Funeral services will be held on Sunday. The deceased is survived by his widow, the former Ina Fisher, his father, Butler Garrett, of Converse, S. C., and a host of friends and relatives all over the county.

Radio News

The many admirers of James Dawson, whose analysis of the news comes over the Greenville News-Piedmont station, will be interested to know that the time of his evening broadcast has been changed to 10 p. m. The morning talk remains the same—9 o'clock.

Many regard him as the best informed news analyst on the air oday, and the change of time came in response to a large number of requests from his radio audience.

—Contributed.

Softball News

The Bushwhackers defeated the Kilowatts Thursday 23 to 16. The Bushwhackers made 12 of the winning scores in the last inning. C. W. Nessmith pitched the Bushwhackers to winning place with a good brand of softball delivery. Home runs featured the games those receiving a ticket for a round trip included Culler, Martin and Honeman. The High School will play Adams-Millis this evening at 6 p. m., at Harmon Field.

CURB REPORTER

Uncle Bill Stearns says the post office is to be remodeled and made up-to-date in every way. The base-ment will be used for part of the service and the rear entrance downstairs will be used by the incoming and outgoing mail carts via the alley back of Missildine's. This will relieve some of the congestion in the lobby at mail time. The building is owned by the F. & J. Jackson family . . . Everybody is talking about the sale of the Costa and Lightner places to an outside cult of some kind. It seems to be a mystery . . The Shell oil people are tearing down their old building and are building a modern station. J. H. Stackhouse was operating there 13 years ago . . Golfing is coming along in a big way in this section with all the neighboring golfers visiting one another in tournaments each week . . . . Tryon is growing. That increase in over 20 per cent in population has made houses scarce. Several families want to come here this winter but can't find a suitable home . . . Most newcomers are brought by old friends who have fallen in love with the place and want others of the same type. The Charles Conrads who came here from Chicago saveral years ago have had over 300 visitors at their home in Gillette Woods . . . Ernest Kerhulas is Continued On Back Page