Golf News

Tryon golfers are interested in the post-season tournament to be held at Beaver Lake golf course on Thursday by the Piedmont Golf association. Between 60 and 75 golfers are expected to compete.

The association is composed of Lake Lure, Forest City, Tryon, Shelby, Morganton, and Spartanburg. The Spartanburg team won the association cup for compiling the best season record, and the trophy will be presented to the victorious aggregation following the close of Thursday's competition.

Professionals from each of the member clubs will vie for a cash prize, while the amateurs—and all who participated in the season matches are invited—will engage in a handicap affair for trophies and medals.

Spartanburg won eight and lost two matches during the regular season; Morganton had a 7-3 win-loss record; Lake Lure broke even at 5-5; Forest City dropped four while winning six, and Tryon and Shelby tied for bottom place with three victories against seven setbacks.

War Relief Canning

Now that the members of the younger set are joining the regular staff, canning days in Landrum take on an almost festive quality. Last week, several of the younger men made their first appearance. Rufus Zogbaum, Jr., home for a brief stay before taking up his aviation duties at Pensacola, was one of the newcomers assigned the job of labeling the cans. His younger brother, David, was another who did his efficient bit. Jimmie Marshall, Jr., is a zealous worker whose services are contributed on Tuesday and Friday mornings. Last Friday he arrived at an unusually early hour with two bushels of figs donated by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Waller Marshall, from their place, Mountain Acres. Others who made their initial appearance on Friday were Miss Sue Still, Miss Margaret Beach, Miss Alice Millard, Miss Fay Trowbridge, Miss Frances Hudson, Mrs. B. G. Henry, Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Marcus Nash, Mrs. Lespie Barnett, Mrs. W. Y. Wilkins, Mrs. C. A. Martin, Mrs. E. J. Jacobs, and Mrs. J. W. Taylor.

On Tuesday last, 327 cans of string beans, tomatoes, peaches and apples were packed and on Friday 143 cans of figs, string beans, apples and tomatoes, bringing the total to 3389 cans. These were donated by the Walter Hills, Mrs. Hester Daley, Mr. W. A. Ballew and Mrs. J. W. Marshall. In addition to this, 50 pounds of honey were contributed by Mrs. E. G. Vollmer.
