CURB REPORTER

Those two Kiwanis wheel chairs have arrived and are at Jackson's store. Far from feeling like an invalid on such an invigorating morning I still couldn't resist the temptation to try one of the chairs. It was so comfortable that I thought it would be nice to be an invalid for a while. These two chairs will make six chairs the club has to loan out to people needing them. They enable the invalid to move about and still be in a comfortable position. The last gift to this fund was made by the late James H. Perkins . . . The Polk County Grand Jury report was received in the office a little late, but if you have not read it, you might be interested. Here it is:

To the Honorable William H. Bobbitt, Presiding Judge—

We, the Grand Jury for Polk County, beg to submit the following report:

We have acted upon all bills given us by the Solicitor.

The following schools were examined:

Sunny View (white) — Toilets badly in need of repairs. Roof has bad leak. We recommend that this be attended to.

Tryon (white)—This school and grounds in good condition.

Lynn (white)—This school is in fair condition.

Green's Creek (white) — The

All Officers Re-Elected For Chamber of Commerce

At the annual meeting of the Tryon Chamber of Commerce held on Thursday evening at Missildine's Hall the officers and board of directors were re-elected as follows: President K. A. Bowen; vice-president, J. T. Arledge; secretary-treasurer, Seth M. Vining; A. W. Brintnall, Ernest Kerhulas, L. F. Buchanan, C. H. Helms, Mrs. Rebecca Jervy, J. B. Hester. Miss Sara Rion, the assistant secretary-treasurer, who is employed by the board of directors, was given a vote of thanks for the manner in which she has conducted the office of the organization during the past term.

The secretary's report showed that the Chamber of Commerce had distributed thousands of folders about Tryon, had answered hundreds of inquiries from all over the country and had given information to several hundred persons who had called at the office in the Hester building. The organization promoted a merchants display window contest at Christmas, had Tryon represented in the Rhododendron Festival, entertained hundreds of visitors at Harmon Field on July, helped distribute 100,000 folders in Florida on the Mayors' Good Will Tour, entertained two Good Will tours to Tryon, one from Greenville and one from Asheville. Many needed supplies, filing cabinets, stationery, etc., were bought. There are no debts and a balance of approximately $100 in the treasury.

In the discussion for needs of the community, J. T. Arledge spoke
