CRAFT AND O'BARR GIVEN THREE YEARS

Judge T. S. Sease, like MacDuff, laid it on in Criminal Court here yesterday, and had it been proper for defendants to holler, "Hold, enough!" the resounding chorus would have no doubt lifted the roof off the Courthouse.

The outstanding case of the day was that of Joe Craft and Walter O'Barr, charged with holding up, robbing and beating George B. Logan, of Tryon, N. C., on January 9.

Testimony was to the effect that Mr. Logan picked up the two young men on the Hartwell Highway, intending to give them a ride into Anderson. Enroute, the men ordered Logan to pull over into a side road. Here he was robbed and beaten.

A verdict was returned about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judge Sease immediately sentenced each of the men to three years at hard labor on the public works of Anderson County.—Anderson (S. C.) Daily Mail.

Little Miss Barbara McFarland Burleson of Asheville will spend Thanksgiving with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarland, in Tryon.
