CURB REPORTER

"Christmas Spirit? Bah, Humbug!" is the Scrooge way a few people feel about Christmas with its decorations, gifts and greetings, but not so with most Tryonites. In addition to all their individual and group charity work they are making a festive spirit of greeting everyone with the lighted Christmas trees on Trade street. This will be something everyone can enjoy, for the farmers and workers can come to town at night and view the beauty of the lighted trees, and some will be helped to catch the inspiration that all this is being done to let the world know that a Christ spirit is in the world, a spirit radiating friendliness and good cheer to all. Additional donors to the Christmas tree decoration include Mrs. W. C. White, Mrs. J.

Too Late For The Polk County News.

Only the 6th of December, but the true spirit of Christmas that of making others have a happy joyous Christmas, seems to be literally "floating in the air" about our village as plans get under way for socials, Christmas trees and gifts, Santa's visits and Christmas pageants, all proclaiming "Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men."

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. H. T. Edwards. A large number of members enjoyed an impressive program under the leadership of Miss Ethel Henderson. The topic for the afternoon's study was "Investing Our Heritage in Social Evangelism." Mrs. Hugh Edwards gave an interesting talk on "The Long View". The program was closed with the hymn "Living for Jesus", which was beautifully sung by Mrs. W. H. McDonald. During the social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rev. M. W. Edwards was pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening when quite a number of his church members and friends gave him an unexpected visit, bringing with them good things to eat to "pound the preacher".

On Thursday evening, Nov. 28, Misses Essie and Vera Edwards entertained the young people of the Epworth League. All reported an evening of grand fun.
