

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POST OFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

1c PER COPY (The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper) 1c PER COPY
SETH M. VINING, EDITOR $1.50 Year in the Carolinas

Vol. 13. Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., THURSDAY, DEC. 19, 1940

CURB REPORTER

Lake Lure will entertain 600 school children on Monday with a Christmas program presided over by Mayor J. M. Washburn. Gifts will be given each child . . . David Wick, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wick, who is a student at the Tryon Country Day school, bought a small hand press and some type recently, and has already published a little newspaper, called the Tryon Country Day School Review. It is a remarkable piece of work considering the handicaps of learning to set type and print, too. If you have never tried to set type by hand you can't imagine how hard it is without any instructions. It takes unusual perseverance. Ann Brundage is editor-in-chief, and students of the school have a share in the production of the tiny paper which is half the size of the Bulletin . . . Thanks to Mrs. J. Waller Marshall of Winnetka, Ill. we have an interesting copy of the Valhalla Voice, of Valhalla, N. Y., a weekly newspaper the exact size of the Tryon Daily Bulletin. It is printed on golden rod colored paper instead of canary. It is newsy, well patronized by advertisers, neatly printed, has a circulation of 650 and indications point to a successful venture. Veryl B. Tuttle is the publisher. . . The British and Greeks have
Please Turn to Back Page

SALUDA TRAIN WRECK IS EXPLAINED

Washington, Dec. 18.—The director of the interstate commerce commission's bureau of safety said today that an accident on the Southern railway near Saluda, N. C., on September 25th, was caused "by failure to control the speed of a train properly on a descending grade."

The derailment resulted in the death of one employe of the railroad and the injury of two others.

NATION-WIDE RADIO BROADCAST

A coast-to-coast radio program for the benefit of The British War Relief Society will be broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System network on the night of December 21 at 7:30 o'clock, EST.

It is confidently expected that a person of prominence in the British Government will deliver a message to the American people by short wave during the broadcast. On this side, some of the most popular American radio stars will contribute their services to the program.

Epworth League Pageant

The Epworth League of the Tryon Methodist church will give a Christmas pageant on Monday night at 8 o'clock at the church. The public is invited.

The Baptist Business Women's Circle will meet tonight at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Edward Fisher. Program will be in charge of Mrs. Rucker Durham.