Letters From Britain

(The second letter to Miss Mary Wheeler is from "D", a gifted young woman who already has behind her a professional career as a dancer. She has many interests artistic, social, domestic, and writes from the standpoint of a mother.)

"South Devon, July 20, 1940.
"We were so touched to have your letter and to know you were thinking of us and our children. They have not gone yet, there is so long a delay in getting all the papers thru and now we are faced with the fact that all passenger ships to Canada and America must go unconvoyed, and one is torn in two deciding whether to send them to safety and risk the danger of the first 500 miles or to keep them here to face one does not know what . . .

"My mother, who is devoted to the children, is to go with them. I feel I can be of use here, especially if I know my own children to be safe. Robert and I have billetted 357 children in this small village. We have opened a big hostel for 150 in the ballet school, and the old theatre studio is the school. You can imagine the number of problems connected with all these infants in two hundred or more different homes. I have two in the house here with my own two. I have two student lodgers, and ourselves make eight: so I cook and scrub and sew all day and some of the night. "We have had bombs dropped
