Communications

February 19, 1941.

Dear Mr. Vining:

Last night the Polk County school principals and representative students from their respective schools, were given a wonderful opportunity to enjoy lessons in loyalty as portrayed on the screen at Tryon Theatre.

I always appreciate fine opportunities, so in behalf of Negro youth of Polk County, and in appreciation from the Pea Ridge school, for the generosity and thoughtfulness on the part of the Kiwanis and Rotary Club members, I gratefully submit the following lines for publication:

It gives me pleasure to relate
Our joys of yester-eve;
Words can't portray just how we feel,

If so, would you believe
That we are truly thankful for
We have been blessed to be
A part of such a grand old place,
Wind of the brave and free.

We thank you for the dear old flag,—

The flag of grace, and beauty
To keep the banner still unfurled
We stand to do our duty.
In union, strength, security
We'll stand—yes one and all
Fight for Old Glory side by side
And never let it fall.

There's not a place with finer folk
(Unless it's where we live)
Than in the little town of Tryon.
They give, and give and give,
They give to help those in their town

In any worthy plan,
Then step out in the county wide

Ward-Williams

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ward have returned from Atlanta, Ga. where they attended the wedding of their son, Lieutenant William C. Ward, Jr. to Miss Kitty Williams, daughter of Mrs. Mary and the late Mr. Thomas Williams. The ceremony was performed at the Presbyterian manse by the bride's pastor, the Rev. Mr. Shields.

After a few days in Tryon the young couple will go to Quantico, Va. where Lieutenant Ward is stationed at the Marine base.

Arledge-Whitfield

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Juanita Mays Whitfield, of Seneca, S. C. daughter of Mr. C. A. Whitfield and the late Mrs. Nancy Simmons Whitfield to Mr. Joe Ernest Arledge of Columbus, on Feb. 1.

The bride attended Asheville college and for the past three years has been teaching in South Carolina.

Mr. Arledge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Arledge of Columbus. He attended Wake Forest college and is now employed in Tryon. They will make their home in Columbus in the early spring.

"The South, Problem or Opportunity" at Kiwanis Club

Howard Kester of Black Mountain, N. C. will speak at the Kiwanis club on Tuesday at Hotel Tryon on the subject, "The South, Problem or Opportunity." Mr. Kester is a native of Virginia and has made a special study of agricultural and industrial conditions throughout the South.
