Lady Astor Asks Women To Man Defense Posts

Birmingham, England, March 2.—Lady Astor, American-born member of the House of Commons, appealed today for 100,000 women for munitions work.

She said in her speech that up to the beginning of the last war "women were treated as sub-human beings and put on a level with paupers but finally the manufacturers had to take them, and the women learned in three months what the men said would take three years."

J. B. GRIGGS

J. B. Griggs, who lived here nearly two years in the Berry cottage, died suddenly from a heart attack Sunday morning, March 2, in his home at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. Griggs was a member of the Orthodox Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, Penna., and was well known for his high Christian character and was a great student of the Bible.

Interment will be made in Pittsburgh where he was born.

McLean-Williams

Miss Cornelia Pue-Williams and William Roger McLean were married Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the Holy Cross Episcopal church. The Rev. Charles McGavern performed the ceremony.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Pue-Williams was given in marriage by her brother, J. Pinckney Williams. The bride wore an ivory corded satin dress with a long train, covered by a tulle and lace veil arranged in coronet effect and carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

Her only attendant was Miss Berthenia Pue Crocker, her cousin, who wore Nile green chiffon, with a head dress of fresh flowers corresponding to her bouquet.

The best man was Clifford Heckert of New York City. Harold Crandall, Earl Tisdale, Lynn McLean and Robert Burnett were the ushers. Dr. W. M. Pierce of the Converse college faculty was the organist.

The bride was educated in Tryon, the Hewlett School for Girls in New York City and studied nursing at Union Memorial hospital, Baltimore.

Mr. McLean was educated at Presbyterian junior college and University of North Carolina. He is a graduate of the officers training school of Pennsylvania game commission. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McLean of Eagle Springs, N. C.

A reception for friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mr. and Mrs. McLean will live in Raleigh.
