CURB REPORTER

New Bulletin subscriptions have been entered for Miss Sylvia Smith at Duke University and for Miss Mary Lucy Betts at Maiden, N. C. . . . One great service is accomplished when you list the names of your guests in the Bulletin. It makes a contact with the outside world. Sometimes important telegrams, long distance telephone calls and special delivery letters are delayed or not delivered at all because a guest is here in a home or hotel without the various communication systems knowing it. The Bulletin is used to locate people. Sometimes a telephone call or telegram will be addressed to John Doe at Tryon, N. C. The person at the other end of the line will say: "John Doe left here to visit friends at Tryon, N. C., and we have forgotten the name of the persons or hotel. This is an urgent message." So you see, you render a service to your guests and a lot of others concerned when you list your guests in the Bulletin. Of course if you have some guests to be ashamed of, that's different. . . . Two more carpenters were given over a day's work at Harmon Field yesterday by a gift from Prof. and Mrs. Raymond Dodge. These gifts from day to day will make it possible to com-

TRYON HIGH DOWNS WELCOME 47 TO 29

In a game played Monday night on the Welcome court in Greenville, the Tryon high basketball team exhibited flawless play to overcome the Welcome team by a 47 to 29 score. The Tryon boys expecting tough opposition due to their one point victory earlier in the season did not get under way until the second quarter when they racked up 16 points while holding Welcome to 5. All 5 of the Tryon starting quintet participated in the scoring and showed the best teamwork of the season. McFarland led scoring with 14 points, followed by Jackson and Vining with 12 each. White, a small, diminutive player stood out for Welcome.

Line-ups:

Tryon (47): McFarland, 14; Jackson, 12; Vining, 12; Melton, 4; Taylor, 5; Beatson, 0.

Welcome (29): White, 12; McJunkin, 7; Shook, 6; Patten, 0; Lynn, 2.

Referee: Boling.

Score at half: Tryon 23; Welcome 15.
