Coker Alumnae To Meet In Asheville, April 5th

Mrs. R. H. Brady, graduate of Coker College, has been appointed publicity chairman of Coker College graduates in Polk County who are being invited to attend the Coker College Alumnae meeting which will be held on Saturday, April 5th, during the North Carolina State Teachers convention in Asheville. The Coker Alumnae will meet at the S&W Cafeteria at 1 o'clock.

Thirteen Young Men Needed For CCC Work Soon

Miss Ina T. Tyler, S. P. W., has announced that the Polk County quota for the CCC camp has been set at 13, ten white and three colored. Young men must be from 17 to 25 years of age. The pay is $30 per month plus board and room. Any young man interested in this work should get in touch with Miss Tyler as soon as possible.

Agricultural Training Needed In Schools

An interesting article appears in this week's Polk County News in which is discussed the need for Agricultural training in the public schools of Polk County. The article was written by a local resident interested in the training of our youth according to their talents for better service to themselves and their country. Copies of The News are on sale at the Bulletin office for 5c each.

Judges for Clean-Up Week Projects In Tryon Schools

Projects for Clean-Up Week, April 7 to 12, which have been underway for some time in the Tryon public schools, are nearing completion. Judges of these projects have just been named by Mrs. Montgomery Whaling of the Civics Committee of Tryon Garden club, which is sponsoring Clean-Up Week under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Dodge, chairman of the Civics Committee. The projects and judges are as follows:

Folders, prepared by five groups in grades 1, 2, and 3; individual prizes to be awarded to first and second in each group; judges, Mrs. F. P. Bacon, Mrs. Seth M. Vining, Mrs. E. Pue-Williams.

Project to beautify section of school yard; group competition in grades 4, 5, 6 and 7; three prizes; judges, Miss Christobel Sawyer, Miss Helen Roberts, Mrs. S. S. Woody.

Posters, grades 8, 9, 10 and 11, high school; individual prizes; judges, Mrs. Bernard Manning, Mrs. Lincoln Cunningham, Mrs. Austin Woody.

Essays, grades 8, 9, 10 and 11, high school; individual prizes; judges, Miss Susan Harper, Mrs. E. M. Addis, Mrs. K. A. Bowen.

Nelson Jackson, Jr., returned Wednesday from a business trip to New York. Just before leaving on Tuesday night he checked with the hospital concerning the condition of Dr. Lincoln and it is thought Dr. Lincoln will be able to return home within a few weeks.
