CURB REPORTER

The payroll at Harmon Field is going on but the donations have slowed up says C. J. Lynch who is in a receptive mood now with a big ambition to finish the job . . . . A lot of people are talking about how nice the weather is. There is always variety in the Tryon weather and with so many flowers in bloom Tryon begins to look like the "UNspoiled Paradise." . . . The Edward Kinseys returning to New York say they are already looking forward to coming back to Tryon . . . Miss Elizabeth Winn writes from Montgomery, Ohio, "I am so pleased that we are going to receive the Bulletin, I can't tell you how much I enjoyed being in Tryon, it is one of the nicest and cosiest places!" . . . A picture of Jack Kimberly and children appeared in this morning's Asheville Citizen in connection with the Horse and Hound show to be held here on April 23rd . . . Polk County is going to be one of the best farming sections when these new farmers get started. . . . Those Tryonites who are afraid Tryon will get too big need not worry for the community is spreading out all over the county. Every civic organization or business will be benefited if it has the right appeal . . . John T. Whitaker, Chicago correspondent

TRYON SCHOOL SOLD 3,063 EASTER SEALS

The Tryon school, helping out in the annual sale of Easter Seals for the benefit of crippled children, sold a total of three thousand sixty, adding thirty dollars and sixty cents to the total sold by other sources. Part of the proceeds of the sale remains in Polk County. Jock Blois with a high total of 355 sold the largest number. The school campaign was conducted by Miss Thelma Mills whose fourth grade turned in $15.92. Quite a few cripple children in the County have in the past been aided by this worthwhile cause.—SCHOOL REPORTER.

BALL FOR BRITAIN

Everything is all set for the CALICO BALL. Even the oldsters are enthusiastic about it and those who will not join in the Virginia Reel or square dances expect to have as much fun sitting on the sidelines watching the Grand Parade which will pass before the critical eyes of the judges. The fiddlers will be on hand and when they leave, the dizzy nickelodeon will keep the dance addicts whirling. Camp Croft will be well represented in the group of thirty who will be the guests of Colonel and Mrs. James H. Howe. Looks like a big evening that nobody can afford to miss. There is no rule about costumes. Those who have not had time to plan for one, may wear what they like. The essential thing is to be there for every fifty cents admission helps the Tryon Workrooms to give further aid to Britain.—IVAN.
