CURB REPORTER

Post Office Box rent is due. One of the best time savers is a post office box which costs as little as 40c for three months. And a fellow can get his mail on Sundays and holidays and doesn't have to wait in line . . . Miss Ruby Williams, who was graduated this spring from Asheville college, has already secured a job to teach the third grade this fall at Creedmoor, near Raleigh. . . . There are many pleasures enjoyed in the rural community. Friday afternoon while watching the big shovel eat away the dirt from the Oak Hall bank, a big freight train roared through town, and as the noise died in the distance, leaving a silence broken by the squeaking shovel and passing motorists, a Bob White called from behind the trees in the neighborhood of Oak Hall's kitchen, "bob-white! bob-white!" Where else could modern progress and the simple rural life blend together so well in joyful living. . . . R. S. DesPortes of Columbia is having his Bulletin sent to Saluda, Marion Smith renews his at Mill Spring, George Aid's is renewed at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, D. B. Green at Hendersonville, the Baxter Haynes is changed to Camp Ton-A-Wandah at Hendersonville . . . . The Congregational church annual picnic next Wednesday at the home of the Nelson Jacksons will be one long table. Each person or family will take only enough sandwiches for as many in each family. The committee will provide, salad, lemonade, ice cream, paper cups and plates. Music and contests will also be features of the event. . . . It got 90 hot Friday but dropped to 63 cool at night.
