

The Goose Goes A-Borrowing

The Bear and the Rat sailed out on the sea

In a Swastika - Soviet boat, Their faces were sunny with words
of honey,
And many a pact and note.

Said the Rat to the Bear: "Your Countenance fair

And my prowess the poets will sing;

O let us be married, too long we've been harried—

I'll furnish the Book and the ring".

Said the Bear, "You are clever,
I'll love you forever",

And offered no further remark.

Then crack went the boat! The Bear was the goat,

And the fight rages now in the dark.

How doth the busy Wheelbergh bee
Improve each shining hour,

And gather crowds to hear him
buzz

And land the Fuehrer's power.

Blitzkriegs on the British folk Keep them from breaking tether.
Must we have bombs on U. S. A.
Before we get together?
