MISS EDNA CALVERT RESPONDS TO APPEAL

Miss Edna S. Calvert of St. Luke's hospital is among the two hundred and twenty-five supervisory nurses representing hospitals in 44 states who have responded to an appeal for volunteers sent out by the Medical and Surgical Relief Committee, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City, it was announced by Mrs. Rogers Balcom, executive chairman.

Each of the nurses has undertaken to organize a group of her associates to supplement the work of the committee's nation-wide group of physicians in collecting medical supplies and surgical instruments for shipment overseas.

According to Mrs. Balcom, supplies received at committee headquarters are being depleted more rapidly than they can be replaced because of the constantly increasing number of appeals from Great Britain and allied countries. It is hoped that the volunteer nurses will help to make up existing shortages, she declared.
