Commencement Exercises Friday for Tryon Boys' Club

With the commencement program on Friday, August 1st, the Tryon Boys' Club ends its summer work. Last Thursday the boys under twelve spent the night at Lake Lanier. L. A. Avant gave permission for the club to use his cottage. For the majority of the young boys this was an initial experience. The youngest member was seven years of age.

Tuesday night 20 of the older boys attended their annual camp at Turkey Oak in Green River Cove. This is an ideal place with the river to swim in, good drinking water, and shelter in case of rain. Mr. Bradley, the owner, for several years has given the club the privilege of camping there.

With the commencement program Friday, the work of the Club will close for the summer. Competition is still keen for the group shield, and will end on Thursday when the winning group will be selected. Another important point to decide on Thursday will be the winners of the two cups when the entire Club will vote on the two outstanding boys who have stood out as being true representatives of the Club for the six weeks session.

Cub Meeting Tonight; Open To Public

The Tryon Cub Pack, parents and friends of all young boys will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Parish House to see the Tryon Pack receive its charter and the members their certificates. D. S. Blois, chairman will be in charge.

CURB REPORTER

Mrs. Edna Hague Leonard, former president of the Asheville College Students association, is a member of the campaign committee to raise funds to carry on the college. The solicitors want $22,250 and 150 girls want to enter the freshman class. The college will also become co-educational after 53 years as a girls school exclusively . . . . Major W. A. Schilleter in addressing the Tryon Kiwanis club on Tuesday stated that every courtesy shown by the soldier when off duty is appreciated because the soldiers have so much free time with nothing to do for entertainment. He was high in his praise of the service given by the Red Cross in making contacts between the army posts and home towns of the soldiers . . . . Polk County is one of the ten counties in North Carolina that have had no fatal auto accidents reported during the first six months of this year. Wake county where Raleigh is, had 25 fatal accidents in which 29 people were killed . . . . Noticed in an agricultural paper where a fellow in Albemarle is advertising Wilcox Barred Rock chickens. Ted Wilcox of Tryon has made such an outstanding record that his breeding of chickens is being recognized all over the country . . . . See by an ad
