CURB REPORTER

The weather for Tryon on Monday was 92 hot and 67 cool . . . Mayor Owens of Columbia, S. C., has written his acceptance of the invitation to Charlie Lynch's Barbecue celebrating the completion of Harmon Field Road . . . Governor Broughton is anxious for North Carolina to be ready for the airplane maneuvers to be conducted in this State around the first of October. He wired Observer Chairman Julian Hester on Monday that he considered it a real emergency and that he would like to have everything in readiness by September 15th. Chairman Hester wired him back that Polk County would not fail. M. B. Caldwell and Boy Scouts are already going in training for their job as observers on Tryon Mountain. Sam Dobson and assistant will watch from the Coxe plantation, Edwin Leland at Saluda; Tryon Scouts at the J. W. Marshall place in the Valley, and Robert S. McFarland at Columbus. Chairman Hester is in need of field glasses. Anyone having field glasses to lend the observers for a few days may telephone Mr. Hester. At least ten pairs are needed. W. W. Creasman is the coordinator of observers . . . New Bulletin subscriptions have been entered for Bill Derby at The Citadel, Charleston; Miss

STONE-SCISM

Mrs. Vic Scism has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ruth Scism, to Corporal David Stone of New York, who is stationed at Camp Croft. The wedding took place on Sunday, September 6th at Spartanburg.

Stores Close Last Time Wednesday Afternoon

The Tryon stores will end their summer Wednesday afternoon closings this Wednesday as agreed at the beginning of the season. Wednesday was chosen this summer instead of Thursday as in the past. In making their change in the half-day holidays the Post Office will close Wednesday afternoon and also Saturday afternoon. After this week the Post Office will resume its Saturday afternoon closing. During the summer Postmaster Stearns cooperated with the merchants by closing on Wednesdays instead of Saturdays.

SOFTBALL TODAY

Kilowatters and Adams-Millis No. 1 will play softball this afternoon at 6 o'clock at Adams-Millis ball park.
