Charges Against Kiser Dismissed

A warrant charging misappropriation of funds of the Town of Tryon, sworn out by Elmer Payne, colored against former Chief of Police Hague Kiser, has been dismissed by Magistrate Arthur Atkins of Columbus.

Magistrate Atkins took a "no pros" in the case for lack of sufficient evidence to hold Kiser for further court proceedings.

It is alleged by the negro man that he was to pay the former Tryon chief of police a sum of money to be relieved of a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Evidence could not be produced in a sufficient amount to warrant a charge of embezzlement.

The former chief of police denied the charge.

The negro is now serving a sentence in the chain-gang for carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested by a member of the sheriff's department for carrying a concealed weapon and was convicted at the August term of Superior Court in Columbus.
