

J. B. COOKSEY

Jesse B. Cooksey, 67, member of a prominent Spartanburg county family and for many years identified with the law enforcement activities of both the city and county, died at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, 133 East Columbia avenue, following several months of declining health and a serious illness of one week.

A member of the city police department for 16 years, Mr. Cooksey served two years as chief of Spartanburg county rural police. —Spartanburg Herald.

The deceased is the father of George D. Cooksey of the Tryon post office. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at press time.

John Ralph Moore of the University of South Carolina, Columbia, is home for the weekend.

University of South Carolina defeated Clemson 18 to 14 at the State Fair on Thursday at Columbia, S. C.

MRS. EMILY SWANSON

Mrs. Emily Swanson, 90, aunt of Lester, Loren and Decatur Wilson of Polk County, passed away Thursday at her home in Tennessee. Mrs. Swanson was a native of Rutherford county and at one time lived in the Green Creek section of Polk County.

Mrs. A. Milligan of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Miss Polly Herrman of Salem College, have arrived for the Boan-Lincoln wedding on Saturday evening.

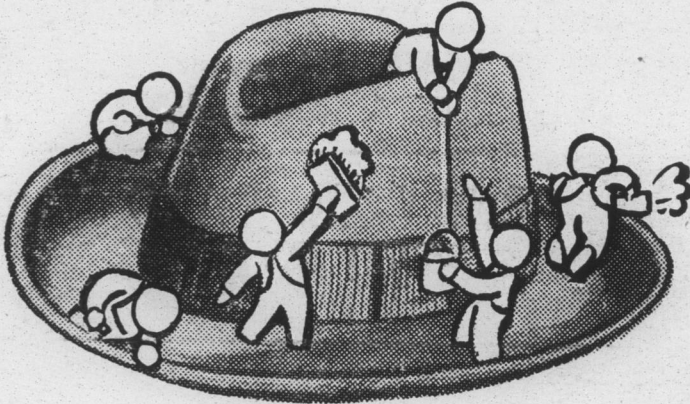

Turkeys will be plentiful for Thanksgiving dinners November 20th, but may be scarce by Nov. 27th, if the larger consumer states observe the first Thanksgiving.

Drs. W. K. & Emma Hale Osteopathic Physicians

305 Montgomery bldg., Telephone 646, Spartanburg, S. C.

Tryon on Saturdays

HATS CLEANED RIGHT

Quick Service

RECTOR'S CLEANERS & DYERS

Telephone 212

Tryon, North Carolina