

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

5c COPY

(The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper)

5c COPY

SETH M. VINING, EDITOR

$1.50 Year in the Carolinas

Vol. 14. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., MONDAY, NOV. 10, 1941

CURB REPORTER

Lieutenant Craig Furr, Alene Ward's husband, who is now stationed at Camp Polk, La., will be released from the army when his year is up on December 8 . . . Watching Matt O'Shields count the Bulletin pages containing football guesses; it is astonishing how many people enjoy guessing at who'll win, and it is equally astonishing how often the amateur guesses better than the expert . . . Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, a former private secretary in the home of the late President Woodrow Wilson was one of the guests at Mrs. B. King Couper's informal tea last week . . . Wanda L. Meyers, director of hostesses for the Southern Railway streamline trains, will arrive from Washington, D. C., this week to address the Tryon Rotary Club on Friday. Assistant General Passenger Agent Otis Price of Asheville says that she is an interesting speaker. She will also speak to the Asheville Rotary club . . . Bishop Frank Hale Touret writes from Nantucket, Mass., to have his Bulletin sent to his home in Tryon on Melrose Lane after November 16th. Rev. Charles McGavern and family who are occupying the Touret house are moving this week to the Buckius house nearby . . . Lefty Flynn's cousin, Lieut. John Warner, of Greenwich, Conn., and Lieut. Joe Morman of Cincinnati,

Continued on Back Page

Roll Call Thursday

Thursday, November 13th, is the Red Cross Roll Call Day in Tryon. In addition to the subscription of ten dollars already reported, two ★ JOIN memberships have been received from visitors in Tryon who plan to leave early this week. Memberships will be received at any time up to November 30th. But in Tryon,

Thursday is the day. In the post office and in Missildine's Pharmacy, representatives of the committee will be on hand both morning and afternoon to enroll members while others will make a house-to-house visitation. After Thursday, Miss Capps in Missildine's, and Mrs. Cathey at the Blue Ridge Weavers, will enroll members. G. W. Comer of the Adams-Millis Corporation and W. C. Ward of the Mercerizing plant will enroll employees of their respective outfits. Other members of the committee will enroll members in Saluda, Green's Creek, Columbus, Cooper's Gap and other parts of the county. All this preparation is made in order to render it easy for Polk County people to enroll; but in view of the tremendous need, and the national appeal, the Committee feels sure that Polk County people will make it easy for the Committee to do its work. A list of the committee as at present constituted follows; other names will be added later: Mrs. E. C. An-

Continued on Back Page