

5c PER COPY

$2.00 PER YEAR

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper, Seth M. Vining, Editor.

Vol. 14. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOV. 28, 1941

CURB REPORTER

Jack Blackwell, the General Electric dealer, has just received what is probably the first electric heated blanket for sale in Tryon.

. . . The weather on Wednesday was 66 high and 24 low; for Thursday 58 high and 28 low. It's funny how Tryon weather acts.

It always feels warmer than the thermometer shows Yesterday in the middle of the day it was so warm and pretty—almost a sunny summer day . . . Julian Hester went to bat for Tryon recently when the Esquire Magazine had an editorial on wines and showed a map of wine sections of the nation. In North Carolina they and the area east of Aberdeen and Tryon was not mentioned. So Banker Hester wrote to them about it and has received nice letters from two of the editors. First thing you know they will be wanting a bottle of Tryon wine. It's convincing . . . W. E. Spangle went to Knoxville, Tenn., last weekend and while there saw one of the captured German airplanes on exhibit for the benefit of the British War Relief. It is some ship and remarkable for its power of destruction. The ship had brought down four ships of England, Holland and France . . .

GOD BLESS OUR HOME should be the prayer in every one's heart. The idea was brought forth

-----Continued on Page Two-----

COMMUNICATIONS

Dear Mr. Vining:

I read in the Bulletin the communication calling attention to the trash pile accumulating on the bank of the river by the Howes-Connor bridge, along Warrior Drive.

Before calling it to the attention of the town authorities this committee hopes the persons responsible for the pile will take some other way for disposal of their refuse.

This way is not only unsightly but unsanitary as breeding places for flies and mosquitoes. It needs the cooperation of everyone to carry out the clean-up program which lasts all the year to keep Tryon clean and beautiful.

Mrs. Raymond Dodge,
Chairman Civic and Roadside Committee, Tryon Garden Club.

BILL HODGES PASSES

News has been received in Tryon of the death Thursday night of William Hodges at his home in Spartanburg. Mr. Hodges, who was known as "Bill" to many friends in this section, had a home on the side of Hogback Mountain where he spent most of his weekends and entertained many distinguished guests including governors, senators, judges and others of note. He had operated the Franklin hotel in Spartanburg for many years. He is survived by a brother, Frank Hodges, and a sister, Mrs. Ibra C. Blackwood. He was in his early fifties.