

5c PER COPY

$2.00 PER YEAR

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper, Seth M. Vining, Editor.

Vol. 14. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., WEDN'SDAY, JAN. 28, 1942

CURB REPORTER

News from Daytona Beach, Fla., states that Jennings Ford of Tryon has re-enlisted in the Navy and is now stationed at Jacksonville, Fla. Vernon Hall, Jr., formerly of Tryon high school is now attending the baseball school for the second year at Orlando, Fla. Don Padgett of Forest City and member of St. Louis Cardinals, is an instructor at the school.

Town Manager C. H. Helms, J. W. Taylor and Jack Ford of the Town of Tryon Public Service Departments are in Chapel Hill today attending a State Symposium on the Protection of Public Water Supplies in War Time. The meeting is being held at the University of North Carolina.

G. W. Comer of the Adams-Millis Corporation has reported 36 donors of his company to the Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

Mrs. Louis D. Parker of New Lebanon Center, N. Y., writes that the knitters of New London, Conn., have adopted the slogan: "Remember Purl Harder."

Surveyor Giles W. Pearson came across an unusual sight the other day when he found a sycamore tree with a honeysuckle vine growing through the center of it as if it had been a long nail or wire.

The weather for Tryon on Tuesday: Low 30, high 61; rain .48.

Judge Pless Speaks At Lanier Library Tonight

Judge J. Will Pless of Marion will address the citizens of Tryon and Polk County tonight at 8 o'clock at the Lanier Library under the sponsorship of the Polk County Council of Civilian Defense. Judge Pless who is holding court at Columbus this week, is considered one of the ablest judges of the state and an outstanding speaker. He served as solicitor for several years before being elevated to the bench. The public is invited to hear him.

TWO CONVICTS ESCAPE POLK COUNTY JAIL

Hugh Harrill and Clarence Tyler, two men convicted of highway robbery in another county of the state, and who were brought from Raleigh prison recently to serve as witnesses in the Pack case at Columbus, sawed their way out of the Polk County jail about 3 o'clock this morning, tied the jailor, Luther Case, and took his pistol and money. They were still at large today noon. Solicitor Ridings has made motion that they be declared outlaws. Pack pled guilty this morning to harboring the criminals.

John David Transferred To Fort Sill, Oklahoma

Fort Jackson, S. C., Jan. 27.—Private John D. McGeachy of Headquarters Battery First Battalion, 113th Field Artillery has been selected to attend Class No. 11 of the Field Artillery School at Fort Sill, Okla., commencing February 12, it was announced by Post officials today.