"KEEP 'EM WORKIN' "

That slogan tells the whole story. The American Red Cross and the British War Relief Society in Tryon have a fine staff of volunteer workers who labor incessantly to provide the garments so badly needed. There's only one way to "keep 'em workin'" and that is to help them get the funds they need for the purchase of materials. How to do it? That's easy. Come to the Bingo Party which is to be held at the Lanier Library on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. There's lots of fun to be had and you can spend as little or as much as you like. The larger the number of people, the bigger the cash prizes. We're all in this together and that's a compelling reason why you should attend this party, which will benefit your own country and your country's ally, Britain. The proceeds will be equally divided between the Red Cross and the British War Relief workrooms. Tell your friends about it and ask them to make up a party. Let's go, Tryon!—Contributed.
