SIDNEY LANIER

Loved singer of the song-blest Southernland, Thy very name brings music to
mine ear;
murmurs as with thine own
poesy—
"Sidney Lanier."

I fain would call thee southern nightingale,
Who sings when dark is densest
and of love.
Thy note bore all the jubilation
of his,
With tender cadence of the mourning-dove.

As winds on Eol's harp strike
strains harmonious, Thy words find echo in the soul's deep shrine.
All nature's voices, as thine own voice singing,
Turned all to music in that soul
of thine.

As harmony within the spheres
eternal, Nature's pulses throbbed in
thine high art,
And sang as lofty strains as did
the planets,
From thy pure heart.

A symphony this world had ever seemed To thee! a flow of music ever near.
For thee the rivers sang, the marshes dreamed,
Sidney Lanier!

Want to Win A Cash Prize?

Everybody has a chance to win money if they come to the BINGO party scheduled for Saturday evening at the Lanier Library. Lefty Flynn is in charge of the event and, as usual, will call the numbers. This is a grand opportunity for those who cannot contribute their services to the Red Cross or British War Relief. By spending their money they are helping both organizations & having a grand time in the process. Make up your party now—the larger the merrier—and help make this last BINGO PARTY the most successful one of the series.
