

GENERAL ELECTRIC 1942 APPLIANCES

Ballenger Bldg. Tryon

Curb Reporter

Weather Wednesday: Low 54, high 86 A lot of politicians were on Trade street today. The opportunity to help name a new postmaster for Tryon is very tempting. There'll be trading of support here and there and the congressman will be juggling names back and forth before a final decision is made, then President Roosevelt will nominate a man and the U. S. Senate will confirm it unless the candidate should be personally obnoxious to a North Carolina senator. Neither George D. Cooksey nor Isham Henderson may be the final choice if a favored politician wants it and can pass the examination. Cooksey says he has been working for Uncle Sam since he was 14 years old and knows his stuff. From a civil service angle without regard to politics, friends of Henderson think he should have it, but his chances are slim. Some man or woman who doesn't know as much about the work as either of the two men will get it if he has the political pull. It pays a good salary, and now is more apt to be permanent. . . . Bob Leighton reports that there will be a Blind Bogey golf tournament at the Tryon Country club this weekend. . . . A local softball league was organized Wednesday night. Tom Costa is president, George W. Comer, R. E. Brantley and Seth M. Vining, directors. More details later Saluda school children went 100 per cent in their contributions to St. Luke's hospital campaign for funds and helped swell that community's contribution to over $100. Theodore Jones was chairman of the committee there. New donations received here are from Dr. Joseph Placack, Jr., G. M. Ferree, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Walker In the sheriff's race some report that Kiser doesn't have a chance and that the Wilkins and Hines forces will be so divided that Walter Westbrook or Fred Arledge, Republicans, will be elected in the fall. The political bee is buzzing.

The Young Matrons class of the First Baptist church will get tonight at 8 o'clock with N. L. Wilson.
