COMMUNICATIONS

My dear Mr. Vining,

In thinking over Mr. Washburn's suggestion to develop a local bus system, it would certainly seem the only solution for Try-

The school buses I am afraid are pretty expensive to run in this way, however, as a station wagon can easily be converted into a bus to hold ten, the required number to come under priority, as my contribution to the transportation question I suggest two routes to be covered by two station wagon buses. Leaving from the post office one would go up Oak Hall, Melrose avenue, into Thousand Pines, circling the hill on which the Thousand Pines inn is located and returning to Trade street on the Melrose Ave route, go on out the Asheville road to the Valhalla Post Office, turn and run past Harmon Field to the Tryon side of Lynn bridge, then back by Mimosa hotel branching to the left on the return trip past the Rogers' entrance, and back to Trade street.

The route would take to and from the Golf course, stores, movies, and post office, all the residents of these sections and most important to town, the hotel populations of all but Pine Crest inn. The route of the other station wagon I should suggest from the Post Office to the entrance of Pine Crest inn grounds, back to Trade street, out to Lynn on the Columbus road, returning past Harmon field, the Valhalla Post Office and the golf course to the Post Office.

These buses might be owned and run by the pooled public ga-
