RED CROSS NEWS

Hanging in the Red Cross workrooms is the Red Cross flag that protected the hospital at Coblenz during the last World War. This flag was brought back by William K. Kales, A.E.F., and presented to Miss Ethel Young, who was the founder and first chairman of the Red Cross on Cape Cod. Miss Young has kindly loaned the flag to the workroom, and anyone wishing to see it is welcome.

Why not plan to do a few hours work the day you go in? There are plenty of garments cut and ready to be stitched, and more workers are always needed and welcomed.—Contributed.

SALVAGE

Many people are asking, "What shall I salve now?" What am I throwing away that might be useful in the common war effort?"

At the present time the Salvage committee would like to know what old rubber you have, and there is enough response we will arrange to have it collected.

Kindly drop a postal to either B. G. Henry or Mrs. Arthur Jones stating exactly what you have on hand, and when we have further instructions from headquarters we will contact you.

No tin cans are wanted now.—Contributed.

SOMERCO WINS

The Soumerco softball team defeated the Bushwhackers 14 to 8 Friday afternoon.
