

CURB REPORTER

Continued from Page One

p. m., at Oak Hall hotel. . . . The crowds gathering around the polls to nominate a sheriff of Polk County today are thinner than at the first primary. As there are only two names to count the results should be known before dark Sevastopol, Russian seaport still holds out against the Germans who are also being slowed up in their drive. However, Rommel, German general in North Africa continues to make progress against the British in Egypt. 1,000 British planes bombed Bremen, Germany and leave the place in flames New Bulletin subscription for Miss Sara Greene at Lynn and A. J. Stephens at Landrum, RFD. . . . The rumor about a short wave radio operator being arrested near Tryon has kept tongues going for several days, but so far nothing official has been reported Tryon stores will be closed next Saturday for July 4th. Make plans to shop next Friday or sooner for the weekend Mr. and Mrs.

M. B. Flynn, are now at Sea Island, Ga. They are still directing the USO work at Burnswick, Ga., with something interesting on every night. Soldiers are given an opportunity to learn dancing under Arthur Murray instructors every Monday night.

Mrs. Jack Stafford of Mooresville, N. C., is a guest of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Blanchard.

THE BULLETIN—6 months $1.

"Hello refreshment"

DRINK Coca-Cola TRADE-MARK 5¢

GIFT SUGGESTIONS

Homespuns
Neckties
Baby Blankets
Baby Booties
Baby Sacques
Hooked Rugs
Hooked Mats
Old Dixie Recipe Cook Books
Wool Scarfs
Wool Shawls
Hand Weavings
Hand-Woven Bags
Shopping Bags
Knitting Bags
Homespun Combination Sets
Woodpecker Door Knockers
Hand Hammered Pewter
Sterling Silver Articles
Colored Hearth Brooms

Solid Wood Salad Bowls
Mahogany Platters
Mahogany Plates
Linen Cocktail Napkins
Linen Guest Towels
Hand Carved Wooden Pins
Honey in Jugs
Pottery
Ladder-Back Chairs
Guest Logs
Ash Trays
Stamp Boxes
Toys
Hand Carved Wooden Animals
Corn Shuck Dolls
Wooden Rulers
Baskets, All Sizes
Wood Baskets
Woven Rugs
Lichen Boutonieres

APPALACHIAN HANDWEAVERS

F. P. BACON, PROPRIETOR

TRYON, NORTH CAROLINA