Republican Nominations Shifted For Election

The withdrawal of Fred Arledge of Saluda from the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Polk County made a number of changes in the Republican line-up for the fall election. W. D. Westbrook, former sheriff, who was nominated for county commissioner, has been switched to the sheriff's nomination and he will oppose Democratic nominee W. D. Hines. Hugh Thompson of Saluda, who was nominated for house of representatives will take Mr. Westbrook's place to oppose Democratic nominee Grover Feagan for county commissioner. C. W. McGinnis, who ran against Carroll Rogers for the legislature last election, will take Hugh Thompson's nomination to oppose Democratic nominee W. H. McDonald for house of representatives.

County Budget Summary Published for 1942-43

The Polk County Commissioners have made up their 1942-1943 expense budget. A summary of the budget prepared by County Accountant W. Y. Wilkins, Jr., is published in today's issue of the Tryon Daily Bulletin. Detailed copies of the complete budget are on file at three places. One is at the Register of Deeds office; another at the Bulletin office and one in the office of the County Accountant W. Y. Wilkins, Jr. The copy of the budget may be seen at any one of the three places where criticisms will be received and passed on to the commissioners. Mr. Wilkins states that he will be glad to explain any questions raised in order to help any taxpayer understand the budget.

Looking over the budget briefly we find that the estimated property valuation of the county is $5,500,000.00. The county-wide tax rate is $2.10 on each $100. It takes almost $185,000 to run the county. It takes about $30,000.00 to pay on the county-wide debt service and over $57,000.00 for county schools plus over $8,000.00 for Tryon school district. Other details will be given later.
