

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1923, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper, Seth M. Vining, Editor.

Vol. 15. Est. 1-31-23

TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, AUG. 11, 1942

CURB REPORTER

Weather for Sunday 5 p. m., to Monday 5 p. m., high 86; low 65; rain 4.45 . . . Marion Williams, U. S. S. Charger, 2nd Div., care postmaster, New York, writes that he ran into Loyd Panther, CWT, when met accidentally in Norfolk the other day. Said Loyd took him out to a delicious seafood dinner and had a four hour visit with him . . . The entertainment of soldiers at the Parish House Sunday was one of the best yet, according to all reports. Over 100 people were served. Good music, delicious food and fine fellowship prevailed . . . Senator F. P. Bacon's Metal Salvage committee was busy this morning cleaning the vacant lot next to New's Grocery for your scrap metal . . . U. S. Marines have landed on Japanese held Solomon islands, but at great cost in ships and men. The fight is on. Each of us will do his part . . . New subscriptions have been entered for Chaplain Henry J. Davis, 29th Inf. Trn. Btn., Camp Croft, S. C., Quinton B. Arledge, Platoon No. 394 USNTS, Norfolk, Va., L. L. Clippard of Saluda has renewed his, so has Chas. E. Seymour of Springfield, Mass. . . . Tryon Grapes are RIPE now, and they are delicious. Place your order with a local vineyard and have a nice basket sent to a friend or several friends. That is a

Continued on Back Page

BLACKOUT A SUCCESS

Tryon was the quietest and darkest it had been in over fifty years. The Monday night Blackout from 10 to 10:30 was a complete success. No lights were seen in homes, no cars passed; not even a train or bus. It was the stillness of a country night brightened only by the stars and a few lightning bugs, and one meteor that shot across the sky from east to west. People here want to help win the war and do everything considered necessary. Approximately 100 volunteers including one woman, crowded Missildine's Hall Monday night to offer their services.

Air Raid Warden W. W. Creasman sends the following message: "All wardens, messengers and telephone operators, you did a perfect job. Tryon should be very proud of you. All wardens not on posts, you are just as good as the rest, you will be used. Thanks a million."

The reason some were not used was because the town was not big enough geographically, but great a plenty in volunteer spirit.

Mrs. Brintnall Offers

Examples of Thrift.

Good bedding or food for farm yard animals may be gathered along the highways the day after the road men have been cutting.

The apple parings and cores may be boiled up slightly and then the flavored water used in making gelatines and added to lemonade make an interesting flavor.

And easy tea may be made by putting one teaspoonful of dry tea into a quart jar of cold water and leaving it to chill in the

Continued on Back Page