RED CROSS KNITTERS

Word has come from headquarters that knitted garments are badly needed. At present there are 100 sleeveless sweaters to be knitted. Yarn will arrive shortly for 33 more sleeveless sweaters, 42 turtle neck sweaters, and 50 mufflers. As we are asked to rush these to completion will all knitters cooperate and take out a garment immediately.

It is hoped that anyone who made a turtle neck sweater before will volunteer work on another, as we want the 42 sweaters completed as quickly as possible.—Dorothy M. Hopkins.

The church was beautifully decorated in green and white. Green ferns and white gladioli banked the altar, and many gleaming white candles supplied the only illumination.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Eugene Johnston, organist, of Mooresville, sister of the bridegroom; Edwin Beach, concert tenor of Tryon, Mark Wollner, concert violinist of Hendersonville and Miss Mary Brooks, accompanist, of Hendersonville. Mrs. Johnston played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, John Thomas Gilbert, wore a classic wedding gown of softest ivory satin, fashioned on princess lines with a long circular skirt ending in a court length train. The deep yoke and the sleeves from the satin puffs to the points at the wrist were of antique lace. Her finger-tip, semi-circular veil with four wide ruffles of tulle was draped from a halo of tulle edged with tiny frills. She wore a gold locketwatch which was an heirloom from her maternal grandmother. The bridal bouquet was a sheaf of calla lilies tied with floor length ivory satin ribbon.

Mrs. William Lacy Harper of Hendersonville and Columbus attended her sister as matron of honor. The bridesmaids, Miss Annyce Worsham of Albermarle,
