PACK IS BOUND OVER IN "THREAT" CASE

Floyd Pack, 35-year-old Polk county sawmill man, was bound over to the May term of U. S. district court under a $10,000.00 bond by U. S. Commissioner Eugene Taylor Thursday on charges of making threats against President Roosevelt.

The defense entered a plea of not guilty but offered no testimony at the preliminary hearing.

Joseph E. Taylor of Lynn testified he heard Pack declare one day at the sawmill where he was working: "I'd give $1,000 to blow the whole damned works plumb into hell." He said the defendant was referring to President Roosevelt and congress.

He also quoted Pack as allegedly having said he'd "rather be under Hitler as under that damned crowd."

William F. Pack, of near Tryon, the other witness, testified he had heard the man make similar statements.—Asheville Times.

Army Ground Observers Demonstrate Air Warnings

Lieutenant A. W. Goldstein, Sgt. F. B. Sisk and Cpl. E. E. Quirk of the Ground Observer Section of the Columbia Filter Center, Columbia, S. C., gave an interesting outline of the operation of the war air warning system, Friday night at a meeting held in the director's room of the Tryon Bank & Trust Co., presided over by County Air Warning Director Julian B. Hester. The director's room was filled with local and county observers from the three
