SOLDIERS ENTERTAINED AT PARISH HOUSE

Thirty-six Camp Croft soldiers were entertained Sunday for dinner in Tryon homes and later at the Parish House where they enjoyed a recreational and religious program which was followed by a delicious supper prepared by the church women of the community.

Miss Martha Mason, Tryon home economics teacher had charge of the attractive St. Patrick's Day decorations. Each soldier was given a shamrock leaf with a number to correspond with a shamrock leaf worn by a girl. In that way they found partners for the supper. The room was decorated with green and white streamers and across the stage were streamers holding a WELCOME sign. Green shamrock leaves were pinned on the table covers and green paper baskets holding green mints were at each plate. The supper was served cafeteria style by Mrs. F. P. Bacon's committee. The entertainment under direction of Mrs. Nelson Jackson, Jr., and Rev. Charles G. Sewall consisted of patriotic and popular songs and several monologues by Mrs. Carolyn Hale which were greatly enjoyed. The religious service was conducted by Mr. Sewall. Soldier Wm. Harrison Cass was the pianist, and Miss Mason, violinist.

The following soldiers were included in the group:

Ludwig Faistenhammer of Binghamton, N. Y.; Gabriel A. Fiato, Binghamton; Wm. Harrison Cass, New York City; Cpl. W. Sturm, New York City; W. L. Thompson, Eastman, Ga.; Ralph C. Harms,
