

Gets Training At Air Base In England

Announcement from an Air Force Service Command station "somewhere in England" reveals that Pfc. Walden E. Head, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster C. Head, of 800 West Union Extension, Morganton, is now overseas and has participated in a course designated to bridge the gap between training in the States and soldiering in an active theatre of war.

At one of the Air Service Command stations known as Control Depots, Pfc. Head was carefully processed by classification experts who made certain that he was well fitted for the job assigned to him.

Security training, personal hygiene, a talk by a special service officer informing him of facilities for healthful recreation, and a lecture by the chaplain are all in turn part of the G. I.'s preparation for his overseas duty. His next station will be one from which American fighting planes will take off to smash the Nazi war machine.

Before entering the army he was employed as a machinist's helper by the Triangle Construction Co., Durham, N. C.—Contrib.

SANDY PLAINS NEWS

Cpl. Howard Greene spent the week-end at home. His wife accompanied him back to camp.

Here's A Suggestion that will help us give you better service:

• When you telephone to report trouble, please tell us just what you think the trouble is. If your refrigerator is out of order, your common sense description of its "symptoms" may save an extra trip and may speed up your service.

Remember the more information you give us when reporting trouble the better we can serve you.
