CURB REPORTER

Weather Tuesday: High 74, low 68, rain 1.54 . . . New people are hearing about the climate in Tryon. The Chicago Motor club has written the Tryon Chamber of Commerce for 50 descriptive folders. Nina Baker of the Chicago Touring Bureau wants one by first class mail. The Asheville Chamber of Commerce writes for an additional 15 folders. The Tryon Chamber of Commerce and local inns and hotels are making contacts which promise a big season for the community this winter. All persons who have apartments or houses to rent or sell should notify their real estate agents because requests are coming in to the Chamber of Commerce for these accommodations. And all real estate agents who are members of the chamber of commerce are sent a list of these inquiries . . . Spartanburg Herald reports marriage of Adolphus Lee Hill, 22, of Landrum and Edna Halford, 22, of Lynn . . . This is a day to rave about after the rain. It is clear, fresh, clean and wholesome with a blue sky and bright sunshine spiced with a delightful breeze. Much propaganda and a variety of things come in the mail to a newspaper office. A paper advertisement has this quotation from Thomas Carlyle: "Today is not yesterday. We ourselves change. How then can our

BIG BAPTIST MEETING HERE THURSDAY

The Tryon First Baptist church will be the scene of a big Baptist program Thursday from 4 p. m., to 9:30 p. m., with an intermission for picnic supper from 6:30 to 7:30. Everyone invited to attend and bring a basket of food.

It will be a Mission program of the Carolina Baptist Association with Rev. B. G. Henry, pastor of the First Baptist church of Tryon, as host. Other churches taking part in the meeting are Tryon Second Baptist, Lynn Pacolet Baptist, Warrior Mountain, Friendship, Macedonia, Saluda and Mountain Page.

The chief speakers will be two returned missionaries, Dr. T. C. Bagley of Brazil who will speak at 5:30 and Dr. H. H. McMillan at 9 p. m.

Public invited to all meetings.

AT KIWANIS TUESDAY

Town Commissioner N. L. Wilson had charge of the Kiwanis program Tuesday and led a discussion of civic interests which included the high standards of the business houses such as stores, bank, post office, industries, hotels, real estate agents and general cooperation with OPA. A brief discussion was made about the Curb Market and the need for and abattoir and the production of better beef cattle. Alfred Spurdle, a new member, gave as one of his reasons for making Tryon his home was that it had so many nice things the big cities don't have. Frank Gallimore, a new business man, and member of the club,
