TRYON GARDEN CLUB HOLDS IMPORTANT MEET

The Tryon Garden club made a momentous decision Wednesday at its meeting held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Holmes. As the club is incorporated, and owns valuable property, it is necessary to carry on, even in war-time. The club voted to do this through its present duly elected president, Mrs. Harkness Smith, and her executive committee, but to discontinue the regular monthly program meetings, except when called, for this coming year.

The vital interests of the club, the protection of Pearson's Falls and the work of conservation will be in the hands of the same able committees and will not suffer from the change. Admission to Pearson's Falls may still be obtained by applying to Mrs. J. B. Hester. The Conservation committee, under Mrs. C. C. Curtis, will not only continue the fine nature work at the public schools, but has undertaken new and promising projects for convalescent soldiers, about which we shall hear more later. Membership fees for the ensuing year have been reduced to one dollar per member.—Contr.

Battlefields at Rotary might be the title of the picture to be shown by Samuel A. Bingham at Rotary club Friday at 1:30 p. m., following the luncheon at 1 o'clock. Mr. Bingham took some motion pictures of Holland and the occupied area when he toured Europe just before the war, and they will give an idea of the land the Allies are traversing now in driving the Germans back to their country.

Mrs. Albert Wilkinson Flint of Detroit has arrived at her Tryon home.
