NEWS OF MARIQON GREEN

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Green have received their first letter from their son, Lieut. Francis Marion Green, since he was wounded in Europe. The letter was written October 26th and he had been able to get up from bed a little while for three days. He said except for a wound in his stomach he felt all right and if things went well, he expected to be home by Christmas. He said Alex Arledge, who works in the hospital where he is, came to see him. Most of the doctors and nurses in the hospital are from North Carolina and many of them studied at Duke University. Col. Gardner of Durham, N. C., and Capt. James of Columbus, Ohio, performed the operation on him.

CURB REPORTER

To the People of this Community

"Sad little personal belongings are strewn all over these bitter sands." Thus wrote Ernie Pyle from a beachhead in Normandy.

More than 2,000 bundles of these belongings, carefully collected and packed by the armed forces, are sent monthly from a Kansas City depot to homes throughout America. That's the current price of victory over enemies who forced this war upon you. These "souvenirs" are enveloped with heartaches and drenched with tears.

How long this tragic depot stays in business is up to you. Every second prolongs the slaughter. Every extra $100 War Bond in the Sixth War Loan helps to shorten the fighting. Can you do less than to lend your money for speedy victory?
