

Columbus Scouts Organize

Professor James Brooks, for some weeks has been instrumental in organizing a troop of Boy Scouts for Columbus, and secured the cooperation of Rev. Homer Brady who will act as Scoutmaster. Ernest H. Gibbs will be the assistant Scoutmaster.

R. H. Brady, county Boy Scout chairman, Nelson Jackson, 3rd assistant Scoutmaster of Tryon Troop 1, and county Scout Commissioner Isham Henderson, attended the first meeting. Also present were the three members of the Troop committee: J. A. Wilson, Donald Spurlin, and C. E. Blanton of Columbus. A charter has been applied for. Prof. Brooks, with the approval of Principal G. Tolliver, secured a suitable room in the school gymnasium as headquarters for troop meetings. This has been painted and made attractive. Scoutmaster Brady has inaugurated a full program of Scout activities. Fifteen Scouts have already enrolled. Others will join later.

A successful paper salvage drive was carried out Saturday as the first community activity of the group.

Mrs. Mary Stearns Graham had as guests during the weekend, her grandson, Harold Marmaduke of Waterbury, Conn., and his guest John Hoth, of Summit, N. J. They came down from the Naval hospital, Kennilworth, Asheville where they are for a short stay.
